Who's ready for some bad golf?!?!?

So we start a little early this year, huh boys? Did you know a golf ball loses two yards of carry for every ten degrees drop in temperature? If it doesn't crack 40 that means Ken's golf drive will be less than Mike's drive to get out of the cart in the rain. Good luck with that second shot, Kenny.

Before we get started, it looks like we've got a few less playing this year. Was that mandated by the Myrtle Beach golf course society because it takes you longer to play 18 than it does for an NFL team to sign Kaepernick? The only thing slower than a Mayhem round down there is Pauly reaching for the check.

Onto the picks...

Preede/Reed -3 vs Kelleher/Moran

This match features the most prolific golfers at Myrtle! With almost 20 kids between them, Philip Rivers and Shawn Kemp approve of this foursome. That's a damn full on basketball roster right there.

Ken and his oversized clothes looks like a 10 year old who dressed up as Ken for Halloween. Preede-Reed also looks like the hardest or easiest Final Wheel of Fortune puzzle ever. They've got 10 letters in their name and they consist of four different letter and they share all of them. Weirdos. Also, is it just happenstance that in the middle of Preede is Reed (pREEDe)? Preede will rise or fall on Reed's play. I'm not sure why I am so fixated the construction of their names but I am. Don't judge me!

Kelleher Moran sounds like a place you wouldn't want your daughter to go to for Saint Patrick's day. Mike will be bombing harder than Aaron on Karaoke night and Rick will be singing all the old songs you never wanted to hear again. Can these two loveable underdogs pull off the upset of a lifetime?

Package/Sacks vs Dwyer/Evans -2

Can Package keep up his brilliant performance last year? To do it he is going to have drag Aaron around the course like it's Weekend at Bernies. We all know about Dave's one armed chipping after watching a golfing drill. Well he just saw The Bird Box Chipping Method on the Golf Channel so I think everyone else in this foursome better have their heads on a swivel.

Win, lose or draw, Package's retelling of the round will make Trump look like a fact checker at the Post.

Late breaking news

I have exclusive information that Package has injured his ribs which could very likely impact his play. Sources say he first injured them while at Disney on the Under the Sea—Journey of the Little Mermaid ride. He then re-aggravated them the next day on Prince Charming's Regal Carrousel. Turn two will get you every time.

Saint/Morrall -2 vs McCann/Hardiman

The chances of Saint losing this match is the same of either he or Mike knowing Morrall's first name. I hope Paulie keeps it in the back of his mind that one more round starting with a 6 is going have him sleeping with the Rushes (what? Too soon? You guys are getting so sensitive). We will tolerate drunkenness, cheating at cards, bad choices in music and even insults about the core of our being. But I think we all know the two things we don't tolerate...eating another man's hotdog and really good golf. We're watching you, Paulie....

Tim and Steve's couple name is Cann-man. That's from both Tim's love of a well formed backside and Steve's prodigious disposal of beer cans. Steve's beer cans getting throw out behind him looks like the rooster tail off a speed boat.

One fact that has Vegas hedging. I think the next time Paul wins a first round match might be the first time Paul wins a first round match.

Odds

Odds of who gets stuck in the elevator

Paul 1-3 (because he broke 70 and Dave locked him in there)

Stevie 1-4 (because he was drunk and thought it was the new European style bathroom)

Over/Under 3

Amount of times after a round that Mike gives Morrall a five and tells him "make sure you make 'em shine" as he confuses him with one of the club house staff.

Over/Under 7

Amount of times Paulie "can't find his wallet" when the cart girl comes around.

Over/Under 0

Amount of f*cks given by Dave for misplacing his lunch coupon and sending the Russian cart girl back to the gulag.

Over/Under 5

Amount of CPAP machines in the house as everyone's body breaks down and continues their slow march towards death

Over/Under 13

Amount of times Cookie or his drivers complain about the #metoo movement and how you can't even smack a female customer on the azz and tell her to have a nice day at the end of the ride anymore. Dames, amiright?

Over/Under 4

Combined times that Tim and Paul speak during the entire trip.

Odds on someone getting praised for their musical selections either in the house or on the digital jukebox.

Zero, because you picky mf'ers are impossible to please and just like to b*tch about sh*t. Why am I yelling?

That's it for now. I hope you are all busy making your sh*tty golf games a little less so.

Vegas, out!

Vegas Update

One week out, how's everyone feeling? There seems to be a little more hate ginned up this year. Ken was heard talking about the one goal in life he hasn't accomplished yet. No, he has already risen to power in one of the seediest most hated professions in the world. Check. No, he has maintained his 8th grade weight into his 40s. Check. No, he's had more children than anyone in the old testament. Check.

The one which has alluded him? Making Dave cry at Myrtle. When he's out on his back porch, funded by big pharma gouging the sick and impoverished on prescriptions they need to live, smoking his cigar and sipping his bourbon it is the one thing that keeps creeping up in his mind. He thinks this is the year. He's got a stacked team and says Dave seems fragile. Will Dave be caught by event photographer Alan, crying at the cart return on day four? Will his band of ragtag golfers be able to dig down and shock the world thereby preventing Dave's utter humiliation? Time will tell.

Onto the updated lines. Just remember boys, good teams win but great teams cover.

Preede/Reed -2 vs Kelleher/Moran

It's the tale of two golfers. On one side you have Reed who has hit more golf balls in the last week than Mike has in his entire life. He likes to say he's getting Reedy to play which is dumb but okay. Mike's strategy on the other hand? He's making his staff at Kelleher manor give him positive affirmations for the next week about imaginary golf feats. "Great shot, Master Kelleher! Your shot game is sublime! Way to pop that shot, sir!" He's also wearing a shirt that reads "Preparation is a crutch for the talentless".

What's Ken's record when being captain at MM? Hugh Jackson says hello.

Package/Sacks vs Dwyer/Evans -3

I have learned from internal documents of a strategy team Sacksy is looking to deploy next week. It is code named, Sacks-agawea. Named after Sacagawea who famously carried a baby across the entire country in a Indian cradleboard with Lewis and Clark. They will take turns carrying Aaron each day. Monty has been quoted as saying "What's a baby weigh? Trying carrying Aaron's golf swing for 72 holes then come talk to me, Sacagawea"

Staying on theme, if it keeps up, we are going to have to rename the roads to and from the golf course as the trail of tears for Package's crying about his injury.

Saint/Morrall -2 vs McCann/Hardiman

The biggest news is Paul has a new biopic coming out in May https://www.youtube.com/watch?time_continue=9&v=S3vO8E2e6G0 . Will he be Tiny Driver or Rock-it Man off the tee?

And I think it's gonna be a long long drive
Till touch down brings me way past Tim
I'm not the man they think I am at home
Oh no no no, I'm the Rock-it Man

Solid first pass at a new rendition.
It beats his other attempts at a remake

- About his prowess in the bunkers "I'm still sanding"
- When about to win a match "I guess that's why they call it, you lose"
- When his partner gives him no help on a hole "Don't go breakin my par"
- When the other team is struggling "Par-y seems to be the hardest word"

Stevie is in the best form of his life. When word got back to him that Package was referring to him as Nurse Hacky, it got so real. Doesn't hurt that he will be riding Tim's mammoth drives like Package rides the Seven Dwarves Mine Train. Steve said it is going from hole to hole, Park hopper, b*tch!

Odds

Over/Under 4

Amount of clubs Dave leaves behind during the trip.

Over/Under 2

Amount of time James pulls up in his car and Mike gets in the backseat and says "I ordered Uber black car. What's with this piece of sh*t?" before being told once again that James in on the golf trip.

Over/Under 2

Times Pauly says "You know in Europe they shower like once a week" when being ask again, why he hasn't ever showered on the trip.

Odds for who is mostly likely to currently be practicing their finger guns for when they hit that big putt

Package 1-2

Rick 1-4

Ken 1-10 except he is shooting them over his head like some Texas goober

Odds Package gets in a jukebox war with the locals using the Touchtune app where he keeps spending more and more money to bump their songs and he starts yelling "I don't know which of you rednecks in here is trying to bump my songs but I could buy and sell you and your entire family on just my bonus last year so save your money for your next meth buy" as Alan yells. Check please!
1-1

Final Vegas Update

Can you believe it's here? Tomorrow the annual pilgrimage will begin. Like whales, you will instinctively travel hundreds of miles for warmer weather, better food and to mate (Hey, I don't know what goes on in those rooms. As long as there is clear consent, this is a judge free zone)

A golf ball weighs 1.6 ounces. That means a shot gun beer is about 9.5 golf balls. A River City burger is about 20 golf balls, 30 by the time it goes through your system. Which means Ken is about 25 golf balls or the amount of golf balls Aaron will use on the first nine holes on Saturday and five balls less than a River City poop.

Onto the final lines...

Preede/Reed -2 vs Kelleher/Moran

Preede-Reed--How can you trust a team whose names contains 10 letters and just three different consonants? Weird right? Kelleher in Gallic means "to make sure people know there are defined stations in life and that you, Miss Cart Girl/Waitress, are well below his all with one dismissive look". Moran in Gallic means "there is beauty in everyone, you should just never acknowledge it while tearing them down one barb at a time until that spark in their eye goes out"

Package/Sacks vs Dwyer/Evans -3 ½

What do you call an Irishman who constantly complains about a minor injury to his rib? McRib. Package is gone. On a related note, Monty has been one upped in the nickname department. <https://www.sbnation.com/college-football/2018/8/27/17785792/general-booty-texas-qb-recruit-2021> That's right. I sh*t you not, the kid's name is General Booty. I hope he wins the Heisman.

Dave and Alan look to absolutely walk Monty and Aaron. This is your lock of the day. Dave is going to one arm b*tch slap you while Alan kills you with a thousand tiny cuts from his 7 iron.

Saint/Morrall -1 ½ vs McCann/Hardiman

Lots of movement with this line as rumors of Steve's improved golf game run wild. And even though Tim's last name sounds like a type of parrot, he can crush a golf ball. Jacob Morrall will need to step up his game to support a very over confident Saint whose first name (Paulie) also weirdly sounds like a name for Tim's parrot species.

Will this giant upset happen? It has a much better chance of happening than Paulie tipping the cart girl.

Odds

Chances Mike says “you missed a spot” in Spanish to Morrall mistaking him for the gardener as he looks for a ball in the bushes on day two.

2-1

Chances Package uses a two strategy defense of “my ribs hurt” and “hey, I played with Aaron, you drag him around for 18 and come talk to me” after getting his day one beat down.

1-1

Odds of someone actually stepping foot on the beach that is literally 20 yards away.

0%

Odds Brian actually confuses Ken for a golf club and tries to shove him in his golf bag.

8-1

Odds Cookie and the drivers actually hate us because we play so slow and take like 40 minutes to actually get everyone out of the house and down to the van.

1-1

Vegas, out
